Pa. Percussion Longrifle signed Shuler, Liverpool

Lot # 1404

SERIAL NUMBER: NSN DESIGN: This mid-19th century example of a Pennsylvania long rifle has a 38" .45 caliber, full octagonal rifled barrel and is 43" overall. The stock is hard maple. The rifle is signed on the barrel, "J. Schuler & Co. , Liverpool, PA." Inscribed "Worly" on the barrel. Worly (Worley) family members were barrel makers on the Wyomissing Creek in Berks County. The rifle was made as percussion and has its original lock which works. Set triggers are present and working. The 4-piece brass patchbox has been attractively engraved with a floral motif, consistent with the Shuler shop style. The finial of the box is of the "keyhole" design, a popular Lancaster style that moved up the Susquehanna as the population moved north and west from town. There are two silver inlays, one on the cheek piece and a thumb plate; both are engraved. The trigger guard and other furniture are correct to the piece. The wrist has an old, professional repair. Flaws are as follows and are all correctible: The two center barrel pin escutcheons are missing and years ago someone put some putty in those areas to preserve the wood. Putty was also applied as a stabilizer to the area that regularly burns out in front of the lock and there are cracks in the forestock that have been pasted together. Ramrod missing. MATERIAL/FINISH COMPOSITION: Metal browned. Maple stock. PROVENANCE: This lot was deaccessioned from Carson Long Military Academy which operated in New Bloomfield, Pennsylvania from 1863 to 2017. CONDITION: Good. INVENTORY NO./CATEGORY: 5632/NRR ESTIMATE: $1300-$1600

Pennsylvania Over/Under Long Gun Signed D. Crum

Lot # 1405

SERIAL NUMBER: NSN DESIGN: Pennsylvania O/U double gun. Top barrel .40 caliber, rifled. Bottom barrel 16 ga. shotgun. The piece is signed "D. Crum." Daniel Crum (1841-1926) was a noted gunsmith whose shop was near Newport, Perry County. Perry County rifles are not commonly located today, especially in this condition. The barrels are 32" in length, the rifle being full octagonal and the shotgun being round. The original back-action percussion locks are marked Golcher and they both work. Set trigger also functions on both sides. Engraved toe plate and two engraved silver hearts adorn the cheek piece. Both ramrods are present. There are old period repairs with nails around in the lock/wrist area. On the bottom of the brass trigger guard appears the name "S. Stroup," likely an early owner of the piece. MATERIAL/FINISH COMPOSITION: Brown patina metal. Walnut butt stock. PROVENANCE: This lot was deaccessioned from Carson Long Military Academy which operated in New Bloomfield, Pennsylvania from 1863 to 2017. CONDITION: Good. INVENTORY NO./CATEGORY: 5632/NRR ESTIMATE: $1200-$1500

Percussion Pennsylvania Long Rifle

Lot # 1406

SERIAL NUMBER: NSN DESIGN: This mid-19th century long rifle has a .45 caliber, rifled, full octagon barrel which is 36" in length. No signature, but the architecture suggests Lancaster County manufacture or nearby. The original percussion lock is marked "Golcher, Philadelphia," and it and the set triggers work. There are old period repairs to the wrist. MATERIAL/FINISH COMPOSITION: Brown patina metal. Maple buttstock. PROVENANCE: This lot was deaccessioned from Carson Long Military Academy which operated in New Bloomfield, Pennsylvania from 1863 to 2017. CONDITION: Good. INVENTORY NO./CATEGORY: 5632/NRR ESTIMATE: $800-$1000

Antique 12 Ga. Percussion Double Shotgun

Lot # 1407

SERIAL NUMBER: NSN DESIGN: This 19th century side-by-side 12 ga. shotgun is marked London and the back-action percussion locks are signed Elwell. The locks function. Barrels are 32" in length. Wood appears to be solid. Ramrod is present. MATERIAL/FINISH COMPOSITION: Brown patina metal. Walnut buttstock. PROVENANCE: This lot was deaccessioned from Carson Long Military Academy which operated in New Bloomfield, Pennsylvania from 1863 to 2017. CONDITION: Very good. INVENTORY NO./CATEGORY: 5632/NRR ESTIMATE: $200-$300

12 Ga. Damascus Double Shotgun, Manhattan Arms Co.

Lot # 1408

SERIAL NUMBER: 42167 DESIGN: This side-by-side 12 ga. shotgun has 30" Damascus steel barrels. The gun has exposed hammers and the locks work. Locks are signed "Manhattan Arms Co." and atop the barrels is the inscription "The Climax Fine Damascus." Lock and trigger guard are engraved. MATERIAL/FINISH COMPOSITION: Brown patina metal. Walnut buttstock. PROVENANCE: This lot was deaccessioned from Carson Long Military Academy which operated in New Bloomfield, Pennsylvania from 1863 to 2017. CONDITION: Very good. INVENTORY NO./CATEGORY: 5632/NRR ESTIMATE: $200-$300

Percussion Pennsylvania Longrifle signed W. Sweger

Lot # 1409

SERIAL NUMBER: NSN DESIGN: 37" heavy octagon rifled barrel in .45 caliber. The back-action lock is marked "Pennsylvania Rifle Works," a Philadelphia firm that sold locks and guns in the second half of the 19th century. The lock and set triggers function. The rifle has a 4-piece brass patchbox with a "keyhole" finial. Wood appears to be solid. William "Billy" Sweger (1815-1892) was a Pennsylvania rifle builder working out of Perry County near Elliotsburg. Sweger's products are seldom seen today. MATERIAL/FINISH COMPOSITION: Brown patina metal. Maple stock. PROVENANCE: This lot was deaccessioned from Carson Long Military Academy which operated in New Bloomfield, Pennsylvania from 1863 to 2017. CONDITION: Very good. INVENTORY NO./CATEGORY: 5632/NRR ESTIMATE: $800-$1000
